the farmer needs in this line. Vulcan Plows, Deering Harvesters, Etc. And we want to call your special attention to the Tornado Disc Harrow; there is no better harrow on the market.

Field Seeds:

You need look no further for anything you need in the seed line. Just tell us what you want and we have it. We have also Seed Sowers of every make.

J. S. WILSON & BRO.

CAN YOU GUESS.

Here's a Chance to Make Ten Dollars Easy.

All You Have to Do Is to Pick the Winners in the Coming Primary.

Just for the interest attached to a guessing contest and to put a little more interest into the coming campaign for County officers, THE News will give its readers a chance to make ten dollars and have a little fun at guessing on the side.
To the person making the first nearest correct guess of the winners in the Democratic Primary Election which will be held in this county on Saturday, June 1st, 1901, THE News will present a ten dollar gold piece. The conditions of the contest are simple. Old subscribers and new subscribers who pay $2 on their subscriptions will each be entitled to a guess, and to as many guesses as they pay year's subscription. If no one guesses correctly, the first one who guesses the closest to all the winners will receive the ten dollars.

You intend to pay your subscription anyway, and you may as well pay before the first day of June and have a chance of getting your money back, besides gaining the distinction of knowing more about the political situation than your neighbors.

Each guess will be registered when received as to the exact day, hour and minute. No one will be permitted to see how any one else has guessed. In guessing only the offices on the ballot are to be considered.

New Departure.

We take this opportunity to congratulate ourselves and our readers upon the consummation of an arrangement whereby Herman Myer, the world's best known expert on pearls, has written and copyrighted for THE News a series of articles on pearls and pearl-search. These articles are accompanied by specially good illustrations, made to show what shell should be sought for, how they should be opened, and what shapes and kinds of pearls are valuable and what the value.

Herman Myer stands at the head of pearl men in the world, and is better known as "The Pearl King," than by his usual name. He is still young, but has spent sixteen years of his life in the laborious sojourns, of inducing men to gather the wealth in pearls in their nearby streams. It is said by Van Simmonds, the author of "Fresh Water Pearls," that Myer has done more to further the interest of the pearl industry in America than all other men together. In fact, whenever money, time or brains are needed the "Pearl King" was found giving them. The Washington Star of May 5th, last, says that over $500,000 worth of pearls are yearly gathered in the United States, and that when bills were introduced in both Houses of Congress this past Spring to stop all pearl fishing that Herman Myer, the Promoter of Interior Pearl Fisheries of America, better known as the "Pearl King," was found to be on hand, and gave his time and experiences to fighting these bills. He worked single-handed and alone, put forth enormous efforts, and by bringing facts plainly before Congress he succeeded in killing the bill.
The pearl fishermen in old established pearl fisheries are ever in his praise, and more than ever they feel they can depend on their "Pearl King."

Mr. Myer has already examined our shells, and some had pearls sent him from Bourbon County, and reports the indication as the very best for fine pearls to be obtained in large quantities.

We believe our readers will give special credit for securing these articles if it is seen that "St. Nicholas," the highest class magazine of its kind in the world, has hastened to secure a similar shorter article by Mr. Myer for the September number. As pearl work is done without capital and without experience, and even at odd times it is seen that its earnings, which average three times that of other forms of labor and just that much found money. The money should average $35,000 per year for our country, and is money brought from the very wealthiest city people our country to remain and be spent here.
We are sure our people will encourage the work, and those who can will want to engage in it. We want to request when this work is established that you do not forget that it was first brought to the attention of the public in our column and through our enterprise.

BARRYMORE IN STORY.

Interesting Incidents in the Noted Actor's Career.

HOT FIGHT WITH AN ENGINEER.

How Barrymore Argued With a Western Railroad Man and Had to Dodge Bullets—A Singular Experience in Chicago—His Wit and Personality.

Probably the most exciting incident in the varied career of Maurice Barrymore, the famous actor who recently became suddenly insane, was the attempt upon his life by Jim Curry, noted as one of the most daring scouts in the west and equally noted as a "bad man," says the New York Journal.

After an adventurous career, which included the entire civil war and the Indian war of 1893, Curry drifted down to Texas. He started a restaurant at Marshall, but went broke and secured a position on the Texas and Pacific as engineer. His engine was drawing a train one day on board of which were Barrymore and his company. While the train was stopping in Marshall as actor and engineer became engaged in conversation. Barrymore made a remark which Curry resented. He drew his revolver and fired point blank at Barrymore's head. Barrymore dodged.
The bullet missed him and struck Dick Porter, a member of the company, killing him instantly.

Curry shot again. For a wonder he missed. He was overpowered and placed under arrest. After a long trial, in which he was materially aided by an organization of which he was a charter member and by his record as a brave scout, Curry was acquitted. But the incident took all the bravado out of him. He laid aside the ready revolver which had got him into so many scrapes and lived quietly thereafter until one day he dropped dead in the street in Spokane, where he had gone to live.

Barrymore was unarmed. He used to say that he had too hot a temper to trust himself with a gun. Besides, he had great confidence in his ability to fight his battles with his fists.

"While stories are in order," continued Mr. Barrymore contemptuously, "I will just tell you a rather singular experience I had in Chicago. I have always read Gaboriau's novels with more or less interest, but I have had my doubts regarding the remarkable success of his heroes in 'making up' for characters. I never thought it possible that a man could put on a 'make up' that would defy detection in daylight. But I have changed my mind.

"While playing in Chicago some time ago I had occasion to have some photographs taken in costume as Captain Davenport. When the artist had finished with me, I looked at my watch and saw I had only ten minutes to get to the theater. I was a mile away.
Sheridan might have made it on his horse, but I had my doubts. I rushed out of the studio without changing a line on my face and got aboard a grip car. I was in mortal terror lest somebody should discover my disguise.
You know I wear a full beard and a gray wig in 'Alabama.' I tried to 'do the part,' however, and it went. I stopped the car, climbing on with a rheumatic limp, put on a pair of spectacles and proceeded to read a morning paper after giving the other occupants of the car a slow board of trade stare. And from the conductor to the bookkeeper nobody on the car, which was crowded, discovered my 'make up.' I got down to the theater just in time to go on the stage, and nobody was the wiser for my trip in a grip car. I have more faith in the French detective stories than formerly. The public is easier to deceive than I thought."—St. Louis Republic.

While one of the handsomest men of his profession, Maurice Barrymore is one of the most careless as to dress, says the New York Journal. He was always well liked by women, and he had a poet's admiration of the sex.
While rhapsodizing at the Lambs about the beauty of the new star some one interrupted with:

"But, Barry, the old flames!"

"Those were only matches," he vowed.

Once a wine agent intruded on a party, of which Barrymore was one, in Chicago. The agent told Barrymore he was a man of good taste, a man of the world and all that and wound up by saying, "When you want a bottle of wine in future, will you not gratify me by asking for my wine?" "Why, of course," answered Barrymore most graciously. "I shall be delighted to ask for your wine. But, heavens, suppose they should have it!"

Some years ago Barrymore was the Orlando and a fine one at an open air performance of "As You Like It," given at Stevens' Casino, Hoboken. The performance was for a charitable purpose, tickets were $5 each, the audience was made up of fashionable women.
A frightful thunderstorm cut short the play. The fashionable women scampered into the house for shelter. Barrymore held an umbrella over the Rossini, who put on a mackintosh.

A few days after Barrymore was listening to a description of rainmaking in Kansas by an actor who had been there. He heard patiently the different schemes of the rainmakers to induce rain, and then he asked, "Why don't they give an open air performance of 'As You Like It'?"

Barrymore excelled in dashing military roles like that of Colonel Purchval West, in "Shenandoah," in which he made one of his greatest hits.

BRITONS ON FUNSTON.

London Military Men Long For One In South Africa.

The capture of Aguinaldo by General Funston was the absorbing topic of discussion among London military men the other night, says the New York Herald. They called General Aguinaldo "the De Wet of the Philippines" and sighed for a Funston in South Africa. They mingled with their congratulations over what is believed will end the war enthusiastic praise for the strategy which conceived and executed the ruse.

Lieutenant Colonel Arthur H. Lee, who was the British military attaché with the United States army in Cuba during the Spanish-American war, said:

"It takes the intelligence of an American soldier, particularly of the Funstonian order, to turn such a trick. I doubt if there is another army in the world that could produce such a combination of ingenuity and daring. One hardly knows which to admire the more, the imagination which planned the thing or the contempt of danger which attended its execution.

"General Funston's feat is a fitting companion piece to Lieutenant Hob-son's daring deed in sinking the Morrimeac at the entrance to Santiago harbor. The Kansan knew that he had forfeited the rights of a prisoner of war and could with all propriety have been shot if his scheme had miscarried.

"We Englishmen know little of the actual military conditions in the Philippines, but we have the impression that General Aguinaldo was the head and front of the insurrection and that the latter will collapse with his capture. What should be done with him will not puzzle the United States government. In my opinion, I do not doubt that he will be deported and treated with all the courtesy due to the leader of a courageous enemy. The island of Guam may yet become famous as the American St. Helena."

TEXAS OIL WELL'S CAPACITY

Test Shows It Is Flowing About Seventy Thousand Barrels a Day.

R. A. Greer of Beaumont, Tex., a member of the Texas legislature, returned to Austin recently from a visit to the new oil district. He said that a test had been made a few days ago of the flow of the great Lucas oil gusher and that the result far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the owners of the well. The flow was turned into an oil tank which has a capacity of 85,000 barrels. This tank was filled in 12 hours lacking 12 minutes, says the New York Times. At this rate the flow of the well per day of 24 hours is 70,000 barrels.

At the price of 40 cents per barrel the Lucas well will bring to Guffey & Co., the owners, a revenue of $28,000 per day. If the well holds out for one year at the present rate, the revenue which it will bring to its owners will reach the fabulous sum of $10,220,000.
Judge Greer says there are eight wells situated in the immediate vicinity of the Lucas well which will be "brought in" within the next ten days.

HOTEL FOR HORSES.

Seven Story Structure to Be Erected in Boston.

Contrary to expectations, the idea of a seven story hotel for horses in the Back Bay is meeting with considerable favor, and when the matter came up before the board of health of Boston the other day there were no remonstrances. The projectors of the scheme intend to make it as much like an apartment hotel as possible, with six suits on each floor, five bedrooms or stalls to a suit, pantry, carriage room, room for the help, possibly a janitor, who will object to young horses playing on the stairs; 42 speaking tubes in the front porch, one for each suit; goods delivered at the rear entrance, separate refuse chute for each suit-everything, in fact, that a well regulated family of fashionable equines might desire, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

It is explained that the hotel will fill a "long felt want" among persons with four or five horses who do not care to build a separate stable in the city, especially in the Back Bay, where the streets allotted to fashionable stables are pretty well taken up. The estimated cost of the building for which the board of health has granted a permit is $250,000.

Flannel Suits For Summer.

Flannels will be very much worn in the later spring and in the summer.
Stripes, however, will not be fashionable. The adoption of dark blue flannel lounge suits with a striped pattern at the cheapest ready made shops has made them an impossibility in the wardrobe of the man who wishes to be considered well dressed, says the New York Times. Blue serge, always reliable, will come in again for more favor than last year. Much black and dark mixtures of all kinds will be worn. Browns and very light grays will not be as much in vogue as in former years.

New Theory of Malaria.

An Italian medical paper describes the results of an expedition sent out by the government to study the mosquito theory of malaria. They went to one of the most malarious regions in the kingdom; but, as all wore protective masks, only one man out of 104 got malaria, and he, it was discovered, was in the habit of displacing his mask at night in order to smoke.

The Czar Puzzled.

It must puzzle the czar, says the Philadelphia Ledger, to know how many of the plots against him are concocted by the nihilists and how many by the police.

Secretary Long will send to Memphis, for the Confederate Reunion, the gunboat Scorpion, which was used for blockading the Cuban ports during the Spanish-American war.

Tom L. Johnson and John R. McLean are said to have reached an understanding whereby Johnson is to run for Governor and McLean for Senator. In case Johnson is elected his name will be presented for President by the Ohio delegation to the next Democratic National Convention.

Some of the Flemingsburg merchants are boycotting the Times-Democrat, of that city, because Editor Duly printed the truth about the smallpox in that town, and in all probability was instrumental in preventing an epidemic. The country editor, in all probability, runs up against more dampcloths in the course of a year than the average man does in a lifetime.

Citizens of Madison county held a mass-meeting at Richmond Wednesday and discussed plans to prevent the removal of Central University to Danville. The efforts on the part of the curators of the college to bring about a consolidation with Centre were denounced and resolutions were adopted appointing committees with power to take legal action if necessary. Chancellor Blane explained the position of Central University, and said that unless the consolidation was brought about the school would be obliged to close its doors, as funds to carry it on were lacking.

Matrimonial.

Mr. John K. Calkins, of Cincinnati, who has visited several times in Paris, will marry Miss Isabel Lee Shedd, of Cincinnati, on April 17, at 6:30, at Christian church, Walnut Hills.

The wedding of Miss Essie Lyle and Mr. Samuel Cassidy, of Lexington, took place in that city Wednesday evening. Mr. Cassidy is the well known deputy clerk of Lexington, and is very popular. He has many friends in this city, where he is well known.

Mr. E. Rommewer, 27, of Cincinnati, and Miss Katie McGinley, 27, of this city, were married Wednesday by Rev. Father Hickey, at Mill Creek, Mason county. The bride is a daughter of Owen McGinley, of this city, and a sister of Henry, Thomas and John McGinley.

Mr. Wm. P. Wornall, a very popular young gentleman of this county, was married at 12 o'clock, noon, yesterday, to Miss Elizabeth Buckner Woodford, daughter of Mr. Ben Woodford, at the home of the bride's father, near Shakespeare. The bride is a very attractive young lady, and has a host of friends. The ceremony was very beautifully performed by Dr. Rutherford.

The nuptials of Miss Nannie Clay, of this county, and Mr. Fred A. Wallis, of Lexington, were celebrated Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock at "The Heights," the beautiful residence of Thomas Henry Clay, of this city, of the bride.

The Rev. Lloyd Darsie, pastor of the Paris Christian Church, performed the ceremony, which was most impressive. The color idea was pink, which found a striking contrast and background for gowns of the bridal party, which were white.

The bride was lovely in a charming gown of white Duchesse satin, with a court train. She carried a large bunch of lilacs of the valley. Her bridal veil was of white tulle.

The maid of honor was Miss Katie Alexander, daughter of Mr. George B. Alexander, who also carried a bunch of lilacs of the valley.

The bridesmaids were Miss Nannie Clay, a cousin of the bride; Miss Laura Estill, of Lexington; Miss Mary Wilson, Miss Mary Stauffer and Miss Esther Hoover, of Pennsylvania; and Miss Bertha Parsons, of Washington. They were all beautiful in their gowns of white.

The best man was Alvin Wallis, of Hopkinsville, a brother of the groom. The groomsmen were Chapman Young, of Louisville; Tom Lewis, of Lexington; Eubank Orrell, of Ashland; and J. Williams Clay.

"The Heights," the home of the bride, is a beautiful residence, situated about 10 miles from this city. It is a veritable bower of Eden, with its little nooks of green, the sunlit, the roses and the evergreen.

There were about 150 guests present from all parts of the State. A magnificent reception followed the wedding. The First Regiment Band, of Cincinnati, furnished the music.

The wedding tour will be spent on the coast of New England, where three weeks will be spent.

The newly wedded couple will reside in Lexington, making their home on Third street, at the Witherspoon residence.

A Gentle Hint.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill; and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Sore Throat, Croup, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. #### STORIES OF THE STAGE.

Coming Attractions, Gossip in the Lobby and Boxes.

"ARIZONA."

Mr. Augustus Thomas' new play "Arizona" which will be presented at the Grand next Tuesday night, is a drama depicting Western life which is mingled with a love episode which is sure to win its way to the hearts of everybody. Estrella Bonham, the wife of the Colonel of the Eleventh U. S. Cavalry, a woman who is adored by her husband, in his soldierly fashion, i. e., too much attention to the regiment and not enough to home duties has almost been led into an entanglement with handsome Captain Hodgman of her husband's staff officers. An ardent note, written by Hodgman to Mrs. Bonham, has been intercepted by Lona Kellar, a servant in the Colonel's household (whom this same Captain had wronged a year before) and is handed to Lient. Denton, (also in the Colonel's service), an honest, upright, young fellow, who is very much in love with Bonita Canby Mrs. Bonham's younger sister. Young Denton arrives in time to see the entrance of the Colonel's wife of her infatuation with Hodgman, but on the Colonel's sudden return, he is placed in the embarrassing position of the person who had attempted to destroy the Colonel's happiness which necessitates his retiring from the army.

The scene is transferred to Canby's ranch, where young Denton upon professing his love for Bonita Canby is admitted to a partnership with the honest old ranchman. The arrival of the Eleventh U. S. C., on a forced march with Colonel Bonham, his wife, Captain Hodgman and all the principals of the preceding episode, hasten matters to an uncomfortable crisis, during which a quarrel ensues and Captain Hodgman is shot. A court martial follows in which young Denton is accused of deliberately murdering Captain Hodgman, but upon the confession of Tony Mostano, a Vagabond of the ranch, who acknowledges that he shot Captain Hodgman on account of his deception of Lona Kellar, with whom Tony is in love, Denton is exonerated from all blame; Colonel Bonham is enlightened into the true character of his dead Captain and Denton is restored to his place in the army.

The company, which interprets "Arizona," is one which has been especially engaged for this production and theatre-goers of Paris will without doubt have the pleasure of witnessing one of the most finished performances of the season.

Stock and Crop.

Dan Peed has sold 36 hds of extra good tobacco in Louisville, at an average of $8.

At a combination sale of Shorthorn cattle held at Chicago last Friday, 48 head made an average of $720, which is the best sale made in America in twenty years.

CARLEIGH COURT.—A large crowd in attendance. R. E. Bedford, N. H. Bayless, Jas. E. Kern, Talbot & Thomas, were among the Parisians buying horses. The stallion show was good.

LEXINGTON COURT-DAY.—Stock sales on square were numerous. Good milks were held at $120 to $175, but few offered. Plug hogs, $45 to $65. Milk cows in demand at $40 to $55.

Stallion show was one of the grandest ever in Lexington for many years. Among Bourbon stock farms represented were:

Direct Line, 2:25 1-2 from Brooklawn Farm; Jay Bird from Maplehurst; Stephenson from J. W. & E. H. Ferguson's, and others.

About 350 cattle offered, best yearling steers selling at 5c. Jas. E. Clay bought steers, Brent Hutchcraft heifers.

Jay Bird and five of his sons—Allerton, 2:00%; Early Bird, 2:10; Laramie, The Great, 2:12%; Paragon 2:30%; and Henry J., were at Lexington horse show.

On Monday, James R. Magowan sold to Mann & Fuhrman, of Paris, for the Standard Oil Co., pair mare mules for $550 each. This is said to be the finest pair of mules in the State, and Mr. Magowan had repeatedly refused several very flattering offers for them.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

At Memphis, Wednesday, Maud Gonne, the three-year-old daughter of The Commoner and Feronica, placed to the credit of the Turney Bros. the big end of the purse hung up for the Tennessee Brewing Company's Selling Stake.

With the best sprinters at the track engaged, and all of them in nicely at the weights, the race was a hard betting proposition, and every one of the eight starters appeared to have a chance.

Without twelve pounds off from her race of Saturday, in which she lowered the six-furlong track record of the course, Maud Gonne was allowed to drift from 5 to 8 to 1 in the betting. Seven furlongs was supposed to be beyond the limit, especially in the fast company which she was meeting. She won, however, and she won at her last appearance, all the way. Her great speed enabled her to open a big gap in the first quarter, which helped her in the final run through the stretch.

Prismatic Colors.

Mrs. Opie, the widow of the great portrait painter, whom some one has called the "inspired peasant," never, even in her old age, lost her love of bright colors. A little girl, Emma Martin, afterward known in literature as Emma Marshall, visited her one day and experienced a rare pleasure. She says:

On a screen in her drawing room were hung a number of prisms, which were suspended from chandeliers before the bell shaped globes came into fashion. I sat on a stool at my mother's feet, wondering what those long bits of glass could mean. Presently the brilliant rays of the western sunshine filled the room.

"Now," said Mrs. Opie, "thou mayest run over to that screen and give it a shake."

I did as I was bidden. "Be gentle," said my mother in a warning voice, but I gave the screen a vigorous shake. Emerald, ruby and violet rays danced on the walls and ceiling and delighted me so intensely that I kept repeating the process; then my mother, afraid of mischief resulting, came and drew me back to her side. Mrs. Opie looked at me and said:

"If thou lovest bright colors, thee will never see anything more beautiful than the rainbow God sets in the sky."

Could Not Report Golf.

When the amateur golf championship was played at Wheaton in 1897 there was but one Chicago newspaper man who had the remotest conception of what the game was. Accordingly, the newspapers, with the exception of the Chicago Tribune, agreed to syndicate the work and put it all in this one man's hands. The Tribune refused to enter the combination and depended upon the exertions of a member of its own staff. But the Tribune reporter speedily realized his helplessness and appealed to his brother of the syndicate for aid. The latter obligingly handed over his copy, and the Tribune man set to work to make a few minor changes so that its kinship to the original should not be too apparent. Later in the evening he met his generous benefactor and told him of the changes he had made.

"In particular, the account of the play at the sixth hole between Forgan and Douglas. You said that 'Forgan rimmed the cup for a half.' Well, you know, old chap, that Forgan is a banker down town and a big man, while Douglas is just one of those Scotchmen. It seemed to me rather cheap to have Forgan doing that sort of thing for a half, so I just made it read that 'Forgan rimmed the cup with Douglas for a hundred.'"—Washington Capital.

Ants That Fight Spiders.

Few more wonderful adaptations are seen in the whole round of nature than the webs spiders spin to entrap the wary ant. They are not high, lacy affairs, caressing every breeze, but low set, silken tubes stretched in the grass, the crevices of rock or about tree roots. Ants of every size creep heedlessly into them. The spiders eat them with relish, but occasionally a very little spider and a very big ant engage in a duel to the death. If the spider can bite, the ant can sting, and does it with a right good will. The spider does not try to get rid of such an ant as he does of a wasp or bee too strong to be safely attacked. Such an insect, which threatens destruction to the web, is often cut out of it by the web-builders. The entangling cables are not loosed, but the web rays neatly slipped in two, first those underneath and at the very last the highest filament. Often the letting go of such a captive means destruction to half the nest. But some spiders are wiser than some people. They know not merely when they have enough, but when they have too much.

Johnny Suspects His Pa.

"Pa," said Johnny, looking up from his book, "what is the meaning of 'metempsychosis'?"

A look of confusion suddenly overspread pa's countenance, but it was only for a moment.

"Metempsychosis," Johnny, means—it means—but if I should tell you you would very soon forget the meaning. Look in the dictionary for it yourself, and then you will be more likely to remember. Information that comes without effort seldom lingers in the memory."

Half an hour or so later Johnny sought the dictionary in the library. When he got there he found pa with the dictionary open at "Met." Doubtless it was merely a coincidence, but Johnny could not help thinking that his pa was something of a fraud.—Boston Transcript.

Respecting the Sabbath. One Sunday I called at a cottage in the south of Middlebury and requested a measure of milk, which was promptly handed to me. I offered the woman who attended to my wants a few coppers, but she curtly responded, "I cannot tak stiller on a Sabbath day."

I thanked her, and was turning away when she whispered: "Mon, ye can drap the baybines in that tub wif the graith (soap suds) in't. I'll get them out the morn'."—London Chronicle.

Grows on Her.

Inexperienced Parent—I do think a little girl baby is the dearest thing in the world!

Experienced Parent—You'll find she comes a good deal dearer when she's about 20.—Chicago Tribune.

Every man has his chain and dog, only it is looser and lighter to one than to another, and he is more at ease who takes it up and carries it than he who drags it.—Seneca.

Change of Location.

Drs. Kenney & Sweeney, and Dr. Phil Foley are now comfortably located in their elegant new offices in the Eaton building on Main street, opposite the Hotel Fordham. When the decorations, etc., are completed they will have the handsomest offices in the city, besides being centrally located and easy of access.

Money for the Claypools.

The News has received a communication from a gentleman in Chicago asking if there were any persons by the name of Claypool living in Bourbon county. He states that his great-grandfather in his will had bequeathed a sum of money to his brother, Jesse Claypool, of Bourbon county, and that he was exceedingly anxious to locate his descendants. The News would be pleased to hear from anyone by that name residing in Bourbon county or the State.

FISCAL COURT.

Transacts Some Very Important Business.

Among It Being the Granting of Franchises to Two Electric Railroads in the County.

The Fiscal Court met in adjourned session on Monday morning last, and transacted the following business:

The County tax levy for the year 1901 was fixed as follows:

For general purposes on each $100, 9-12 cents.

For turnpike repairs, etc., 25 cents.

For new turnpikes and bridges, 3 cents.

For poll tax, $1.50.

A franchise was granted to Messrs. Y. Alexander, Wm. Addams, A. S. Rice, Dr. H. C. Smith, H. P. Montgomery, B. D. Berry, R. J. Neely, H. A. Power, T. E. Ashbrook, to construct an electric railway from the northern boundary of Harrison county to Centerville, Bourbon County, and from Paris to the eastern boundary of Scott county. A stipulation in the franchise calls for the road to commence on the road in good faith within eighteen months from July 1, 1901, and the entire line in Bourbon county to be in operation within five years from the date of granting of the franchise.

The Turnpike Committee was appointed a special committee to confer with the City Council and the Paris Commercial Club in regard to making an appropriation for an electric road between Paris and North Middletown.

Another electric road franchise of equal importance was granted to J. T. Hinton, W. B. Allen and R. C. Talbott, granting them the permission to construct and operate an electric road upon, along and over across the Maysville & Lexington turnpike in Bourbon county, beginning at the Nicholas county line and extending to the Fayette county line, passing through Paris. Work on the line must be begun in good faith from within twelve months from July 1, 1901, and the road must be in operation within three years from the date of granting the franchise. The part of the road from Paris to the Nicholas county line will be built first, and then the part from the Fayette county line to Paris.

The gentlemen to whom these franchises have been granted are all men of wealth and with push and energy. It is gradually beginning to dawn upon the minds of even the most sleepy headed of Paris citizens that something must be done in order to keep pace with the push and energy that is being developed by our neighboring cities. If the capitalists of Paris and Bourbon county do not take hold and develop our resources, foreign capital ultimately will. There is no doubt but that the gentlemen to whom the above franchises have been granted are thoroughly in earnest, and we may confidently expect to see in the next two years, at the most, electric roads traversing most of the principal roads of the county.

The Commercial Club is also hard at work with an energy which is convincing, and if the press committee will furnish the newspapers with what is being accomplished and let them give publicity to it, much good can be done in that way.

MONDAY, the 23d, will be horse show day in Cynthiana.

SUCCEEDS THIS TIME

Nelson A. Brown Suicided at Kalamazoo.

Attempted It in the Same Manner At the Fordham a Short Time Since.

Nelson A. Brown, the commercial traveler, who attempted suicide at the Fordham Hotel a few months since by the gas route, but who was saved by the heroic efforts of Drs. Kenney & Sweeney, made a second and successful attempt at Kalamazoo, Mich., a few days since. The following account of his death is from a Battle Creek paper:

Kalamazoo, March 29.—A man registering at the Burdick House, in this city, as Nelson A. Brown, of Battle Creek, Mich., committed suicide at that hotel, sometime during last night or to-day. He arrived last night at 8 o'clock, and asked to be shown to a room immediately. That was the last seen of him alive.

This morning, while two employees were passing through the corridor on his floor, they noticed the smell of gas, but said nothing about it, suspecting nothing out of the way. Brown told the clerk when he registered that he wanted to sleep late in the morning, and asked not to be disturbed. This afternoon at 3 o'clock, the clerk asked concerning him, and was surprised to learn that the door to his room was still locked. An investigation was at once made, and an employee ascended a step ladder and looked through the transom of the room that Brown had taken. He was horrified to see the man lying upon the bed with only a little clothing over him, and an end of a tube connected with a gas jet, in his mouth. When the transom was opened, the smell of gas was almost overpowering.

The door to the apartment was opened with a skeleton key, and an examination of the patient was made, but he was dead. Life had evidently been extinct for hours. There was no note of explanation in evidence, and Coroner Martin Verhage ordered the body removed to an undertaking morgue where it was cared for. An inquest will not be held, as it was a clear case of suicide.

Deputy Sheriff Shean, of this city, notified the police authorities at Battle Creek, and they, in turn, the relatives of the deceased there. There was little on the body of value. Brown had a little money in his possession and some old coins of a peculiar character.

Nelson A. Brown was a resident of Battle Creek, Mich., and had reached the age of 45 years. Dependancy, due to business troubles and excessive smoking are thought to be the cause of his rash act. The body was taken to his home at the corner of Van Buren street, and Division street north, where his wife is living. She has the sincere sympathy of entire Battle Creek in her bereavement. It will be remembered that the deceased ran a tobacco store on Main street east for some years.

While in Paris, Ky., only a short time ago, Brown made an almost successful attempt at suicide by the same method, while in a hotel. He was saved by the timely arrival of physicians, who worked over him heroically until his life was out of danger. His father-in-law, John H. Williams, Upton ave., went to Paris, Ky., and returned home with him. Brown appeared to be getting better for a time, but gradually grew worse again, and his relatives and friends have been fearful that he would suicide. Their fears were realized.

At his residence it was ascertained that the deceased left home two weeks ago for St. Joseph, Mich., where he had secured employment. It is known that he went to that city from Battle Creek, as Mrs. Brown had heard from him since that time, and letters were dated at that place. He is thought to have left St. Joseph and stopped off at Kalamazoo with the premeditated purpose of committing suicide.
